

A map of Calvert Island, which is a large, irregularly shaped island in the middle of a body of water. The island is colored yellow, while the surrounding water is dark blue. There are three circular markers on the island: two light blue ones near the top center and one solid black one near the bottom right. The entire map is framed by a thick blue border.

Calvert Island

10 km